Please initial each statement below, acknowledging you have read the statement:

_____ I understand that University Policy 1025: Policy on Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Assault requires that when an investigation begins, the person or persons I am complaining about will be informed of this charge to have an opportunity to respond, and, by signing my name, I am consenting to the release of my name, unless otherwise determined by the Title IX Coordinator.

_____ If I am a student, my signature also gives Virginia Tech permission to release information concerning my academic record to the Office for Equity and Accessibility for investigating my complaint. Such information includes courses taken, grades received, GPA, academic progress, honors, transfer credit awarded, and degree(s) awarded.

Are you familiar with University Policy 1025: Policy on Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Assault? Yes _____ No _____

The following is a summary of the rights of any party involved with an Office for Equity and Accessibility investigation.

_____ If you are an individual with a disability, you have the right to request a reasonable accommodation throughout the investigation process. Do you require an accommodation? Yes _____ No _____

_____ If a crime has been alleged, any party has the right to file a complaint with the police department. In addition to a criminal complaint, the party has the right to have the complaint investigated by the Office for Equity and Accessibility.

_____ Any party has the right not to participate in any portion of the investigation process; if a person does not wish to participate, this decision does not relieve the institution from its responsibility to provide a reasonable response according to university policy and Title IX guidance, if it is relevant.

_____ If a party decides to participate; the person has the right to present witnesses and evidence during the investigation and/or hearing process.

_____ If a party does decide to participate, the person has the right to request confidentiality, although it may not always be able to be granted. For Title IX cases, the Title IX Coordinator will consider the request to determine whether the university may honor it while still providing a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students. Honoring such a request may limit the university's ability to respond fully to the incident, including pursuing appropriate disciplinary action against the alleged perpetrator.

_____ Complainants have the right not to abide by a non-disclosure (or confidentiality) agreement, whether such an agreement is oral or in writing.

_____ All parties have the right to a prompt, adequate, reliable, and impartial investigation of the complaint. The U.S. Department of Education Office for Civil Rights presumes a typical Title IX investigation may be completed within 60 calendar days following receipt of the complaint. All parties also have the right to receive updates regarding the status and progress of the investigation.

_____ Respondents have the right to have the preponderance-of-the-evidence standard of proof used throughout the investigation process.

_____ All parties have the right to have an advocate or attorney present during any interview throughout the investigation process, providing the advocate may not also be called as a witness to the same investigation. The advocate may not ask or answer questions during the investigator's interviews, but may provide advice to the advocate's party.

_____ Complainants and respondents have the right to be notified, in writing, about the outcome of the complaint and their right to appeal a decision.

_____ All parties have the right to be protected from retaliation. University Policy 1025: Policy on Harassment, Discrimination, and Sexual Assault, the Student Conduct Code, and federal law prohibit retaliation against anyone for participating in a discrimination or harassment complaint, including sexual harassment and sexual violence. You should report complaints of retaliation to the Office for Equity and Access immediately.

_____ If you are an employee and believe the university is violating federal or state employment law, you have the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission by visiting their website at www.eeoc.gov or with the Virginia Council on Human Rights within 300 days of the alleged discrimination or harassment.
